

LEARNING & the BRAIN®

Join Us as L&B Returns for Our 2022-2023 Conference Series

November 18-20, 2022 • Boston, MA

February 17-19, 2023 • San Francisco, CA

April 21-23, 2023 • New York, NY

Teaching Struggling Brains

Improving Mental Health, Focus, Motivation, and Learning in a Distressed, Digital Generation

REGISTER BY SEPTEMBER 30 AND SAVE!

November 18-20, 2022
Westin Copley Place
Boston, MA

Many school-aged students and educators are currently struggling.
This interdisciplinary conference will bring together neuroscientists, generation researchers, medical experts, and education leaders to explore ways to help students who are struggling to learn and educators who are struggling to cope.

Explore science-based strategies to reduce stress, burnout, and boredom, and improve mental health, motivation, engagement, and focus for teachers, leaders, and today's distressed generations.

Featured speakers include:

Jean M. Twenge, PhD, Andy P. Hargreaves, PhD, Deborah Gilboa, MD, and Baruti K. Kafele, MA

Save on the hotel with discounted conference rates.

Earn up to 17.5 hours of professional development credit.

More Information

Click to Register

Teaching Behaved Brains

Strategies for Challenging, Disruptive Behaviors, Autism, ADHD, and Executive Function

February 17-19, 2023
The Fairmont Hotel
San Francisco, CA

This conference will explore the science of human behaviors and misbehaviors to help educators better manage behaviors in the classroom.

Discover interventions and strategies for challenging and disruptive students, tantrums, bullying, violence, ADHD and autism, classroom management, emotional and executive disorders, and emotional dysregulation.

Featured speakers include:

Robert M. Sapolsky, PhD, Mona M. Delahooke, PhD, Thomas E. Brown, PhD, and Stephen P. Hinshaw, PhD

Save on the hotel with discounted conference rates.

Earn up to 18 hours of professional development credit.

More Information

Click to Register

Teaching Social Brains

Strategies to Improve Social Cognition, Cooperation, and Belonging in the Classroom

April 21-23, 2023
Sheraton NY Times Square Hotel
New York, NY

This conference will explore the “Science of the Social Brain”, the impacts of isolation and social anxiety, and the importance of peers, connections, cognition, caring, cooperating, collaborating, and belonging for wellbeing, learning, and a good society.

Save on the hotel with discounted conference rates.

Earn up to 16.5 hours of professional development credit.

Discover ways to teach students the social skills and prosocial behaviors they need for learning, friendships, and life success.

More Information

Click to Register

Featured speakers include:
Sarah-Jayne Blakemore, PhD,
FMedSci, FBA, Jay J. Van Bavel,
PhD, and Nicholas A. Christakis,
MD, PhD, MPH

Saturday Morning Webinars on Selected Topics in 2022

10/8 - Executive Functions in the Classroom

10/29 - Teaching Math to Students With LD and Math Difficulties

12/10 - Brain Plasticity and Reading

Webinars are presented live 10 AM - 12 PM ET/7 AM - 9 AM PT